

You're good the way you are!

Hey, I'm here to tell you something!
You're good the way you are!
Everybody who says something else
is wrong!
Don't let anybody tell you
what you have to do
or how you have to be
'cause that is your
decision!

PEACE

Everybody, every human
every love, every skin
every nationality, everybody
on this earth
is worth
being here!

LOVE
YOURSELF

Being different 'isn't bad'.
It is very good!
How would this world be
if everybody would dress the same
think the same
look the same
be the same?
How would this world be
if there wouldn't be diversity?

LOVE

Everybody, every human
every love, every skin
every nationality, everybody
on this earth
is worth
being here!

If anybody tells you
how you have to be say, "No! I'm good the way I am!"
Diversity is the best thing in this world!
This world can't work
without diversity!"

Harmony

Collide

Strophe: You are so big,
your voice is so loud.
Let yourself be seen,
yes you are wanted.
Let's be strong together.
The diversity on earth is so thoroughly colorful.
You can see them,
just let them.
Stand up for it together.
We are all different,
that is not a mistake,
it is predetermined.

Refrain: When all worlds collide,
it's a new beginning.
Each of us contributes to ensuring that we don't lack anything.

Strophe: We all complement each other,
like shadow and light,
despair and hope,
fear and courage.
We just need a voice to guide us.
Nobody expects you to be perfect.
You are so good just the way you are.
Let me tell you: you are not alone.

Refrain: When all worlds collide,
it's a new beginning.
Each of us contributes to ensuring that we don't lack anything.

Bridge: Your appearance doesn't matter.
Your talent so good.
Your heart so big.

Outro: When all worlds collide,
it's a new beginning.
Each of us contributes to ensuring that we don't lack anything.
